

FOR SALE ADS.
In The World
To-Morrow FREE In The
BARGAIN DAY. Evening World
For Sale ads. printed in 1,201
The World last week.
And in all other New York
Newspapers Combined.
1664

EVENING EDITION
Circulation Books Open to All

A SITUATION AD.
of 20 Words, 10 Cts. will
Casting Only get you work.
Situation ads. printed
In The World last week,
And in the next highest
New York newspaper, 7,091
6,744

PRICE ONE CENT.

LAST EDITION.

CRAZY MOTHER'S AWFUL DEED.

Burned Herself and Three Children in a Barn
at Elizabeth.

NEIGHBORS WERE HELPLESS.

The Charred Bodies Were Found
After the Fire Had Burned
Itself Out.

THE HOUSE WAS ALSO FIRED.

Mrs. Harrigan Supposed to Have Been Made Insane by Malaria.

(Special to The Evening World.)
ELIZABETH, N. J., Oct. 15.—Mrs. Thomas Harrigan locked herself and three little children into the barn in the rear of her home on Third avenue, at 11 o'clock to-day, set fire to a mow of hay and all four perished in the flames.
Mrs. Harrigan was suffering from temporary insanity, caused by malaria. Mrs. Harrigan called at Farmer McCandless for her daily supply of milk this morning and he says that he did not notice anything unusual in her actions.
About 11 o'clock Miss Kate Harrigan, a sister-in-law of the dead woman, and Miss Rebecca Hall, who live near by, discovered the barn in flames and gave the alarm.
They then ran towards the house and saw smoke pouring out of the kitchen window. They rushed in and found a large box full of wood burning along the chimney, which they tossed into the yard.
Meanwhile other neighbors gathered at the scene, and surprise was expressed at the absence of Mrs. Harrigan and her children. Search was made in the house, and the horrible truth began to dawn on the assembled people that all four had perished in the flames in the barn.
There was nothing to do but wait until the fire burned itself out, as the place was far removed from hydrants.
It did not take long in the heavy wind and blowing for the barn to be entirely consumed, and then search was made in the embers for the bodies.
The charred trunks of the mother and children were found lying in a heap in a corner of the barn on the frightful spectacle.
The bodies were tenderly lifted up, placed side by side and covered with sheets, and Morgue Keeper Jensen and County Physician O'Reilly notified.
Mrs. Harrigan was a comely woman of thirty years. The children were Walter, age six; William, age four, and Isabelle, age fourteen months.
Thomas Harrigan, the husband and there is a vegetable peddler, he started for Newark early to-day to purchase a load of vegetables and as yet is unaware of the horrible scene that awaits him on his return.
Had it not been for the discovery of the attempt to dwell in the barn, the supposition would have been that the children were playing in the barn and that in an endeavor to rescue her little ones the mother had been overcome by the smoke and perished with them.
So far as can be learned, Mr. and Mrs. Harrigan lived happily together, and he did a fairly good business.

LORILLARD FLATS BURNED.

Tenants in a Panic, but No One Was Injured.
A fire which broke out in the rooms of John Anderson, the janitor, in the basement of the five-story brick apartment house at Twenty-fifth street and Third avenue, destroyed the flat in that part of the house, and drove out the tenants in a panic. All made their escape by the stairs.
The property is a part of the Lorillard estate. The extent of the damage cannot yet be learned.
The fire was confined to the rear of the Twenty-fifth street side of the flats, and did not extend to the Third avenue front. There were three families on each floor.
No one was injured.

Small Fires.

Fire on the first floor of the four-story brick building, 355 Second avenue, at 7 o'clock this morning, damaged Julius Savoy's apartments to the amount of $300.
An oil stove exploded at midnight in the store of William Schmidt, at 645 Tenth avenue, and set fire to the building. Fire from the store destroyed the first floor of the three-story frame building 315 West Forty-second street, early this morning.

SAYS HE WAS SWINDLED.

Fisher Claims He Lost $113 on a Worthless Draft.
William W. Fisher, of 130 West One Hundred and Thirty-ninth street, New York, President of the Manhattan Trading Company, of 13 and 39 Broadway, New York, was called up for examination by Justice Tilden, in the Butler Street Police Court, Brooklyn, this morning.
Fisher is charged by George H. Fisher, a saloon-keeper, of Fourth avenue, Brooklyn, with swindling him out of $113 by means of a worthless draft. Amore Tomlin, Daventown, who is now in Tomlin, said he placed some stock with Fisher to offer a real estate deal. Fisher said he wanted to know the value of the stock on the Manhattan Trading Company. Fisher induced the draft, Daventown then gave the draft to Fisher, who could not regulate it.
The examination was adjourned until Oct. 26.

PRICE ONE CENT.

LAST EDITION.

BOTH HAVE RESIGNED.

Convicted Election Inspectors Run
to Cover at Once.

And Jimmy Martin Makes an Apology
for Their Reappointment.

Tim Sullivan, in Whose District
They Were, Shares in the Blame.

The announcement in "The Evening World" and Evening Post of Saturday that two men who were convicted and fined for illegal conduct at the last election had again been appointed election inspectors has been productive of good results, and it has also shown the machine leaders that they are being too closely watched when they do much crooked work in this campaign.
The two men were appointed by the Police Board from the list submitted by President J. J. Martin, as Chairman of Tammany's Executive Committee. Their names are Charles Gross and Gus Holman, both of whom were convicted of illegal conduct at the last election.

AN UNWILLING ACROBAT.

Cable Car Struck McCormack's Truck, Throwing Him in the Air.
Andy McCormack, truck driver, threw a somersault high in the air, and is not likely to forget the experience soon. He was driving a wagon belonging to Richard Smith, of 210 West Thirtieth street, along Park row.
Arriving at Pearl street, about 8 o'clock, he encountered a cable car running at top speed. The car struck the front wheels of his truck with sufficient force to throw him into the air. Andy a "back-twister" about ten feet high.
His downward flight a couple of longshoremen, who witnessed the accident, caught Andy and threw him on his feet. The force of the fall, however, staggered Andy, and after landing all right he fell forward on his face in the street and received a number of severe cuts on his head.
For a few minutes he was dazed, and when he recovered his speech his first remark was, "Am I killed? I don't know."
Andy assured that he was on earth. Andy remarked: "Well, I ought to know; I hit it badly enough."
The front end of the truck was badly damaged. Andy was put together with the front end of the truck, and the front end of the truck was put together with the front end of the truck.

JACK FROST IN TOWN.

He Left His White Trail Over a Wide Range of Country.
There was frost here this morning. This is the second frost to herald the approach of Winter, pumpkins hereabouts having worn a hoary coat last Saturday morning. The low temperature prevailed over a wide range of territory, the frost being very severe, throwing the northern part of the cotton belt and those portions of the Tennessee and Ohio valleys where the tobacco, which has been the staple crop, is growing most luxuriantly. The mercury scored 32 degrees, a freezing point, at Knoxville, Tenn., and at the same time, the thermometer at St. Louis, Mo., scored 32; Chicago, Ill., 32; St. Louis, Mo., 32; Philadelphia, Pa., 32; Washington, D. C., 32; and New York, N. Y., 32.
The lowest point scored was 28, at Grand Haven, Mich.; the highest, 78, at Key West.

Frost and Flurries of Snow.

(By Associated Press.)
MIDDLETOWN, N. Y., Oct. 15.—The first snow flurry of the season swept over Orange and Sullivan counties last night. There was quite a heavy fall also in Delaware and Chenango counties.

Weather Forecast.

The weather forecast for the thirty-six hours ending at P. M. to-morrow is as follows: Fair, stationary temperature, except slightly warmer Tuesday afternoon; west to southwest winds. The following record shows the changes in temperature during the past twenty-four hours, as indicated by the thermometer at Perry's Pharmacy:
3 A. M., 41; 6 A. M., 40; 9 A. M., 41; 12 M., 41.

DEADLY DUEL WITH KNIVES.

One Texan Killed and Another Is Now a Fugitive.
(By Associated Press.)
WACO, Tex., Oct. 15.—Hoshea L. Stone and Virgil Bohn, two young farmers, on Saturday night attended a dance near miles from this city, where they became involved in a dispute in which a woman was concerned. The men withdrew to a lane and engaged in a duel with knives.

TWO INHALED GAS.

James Broderick Is Dead, but William Green May Recover.
James Broderick forty years old, a stableman, was found dead in his room, 311 West Fifth street, this morning, having been asphyxiated by gas. William Green, nineteen years old, was found in a room at 114 Park Row at 11 this morning, suffering from the accidental inhalation of gas. He was taken to Chambers Street Hospital.

Fell from a Roof.

Frank Fuchs, eighteen years old, of 21 Sixth street, fell from the roof of the fourth-story building at 29 Second street, at 10 o'clock this morning, and fractured his skull. He was taken to Bellevue Hospital.

You read the Evening World?

You read the Sunday World?

PRICE ONE CENT.

LAST EDITION.

MR. CROKER IN TOWN.

Lexow Committee Has an Opportunity to "Go Up Higher."

Insulted Goff, However, "Says Nothing but Saws Wood."

Rumor that "The" Allen Will Tell Some of the Things He Knows.

The fact that ex-Boss Richard Croker has returned to town suddenly and is now staying at the Murray Hill Hotel, coupled with the rumors that testimony of a specially sensational character is to be given before the Lexow Committee this week, is regarded in many quarters as highly significant.
The first news they should know along that Mr. Croker would be asked to go before the Senate Committee to tell what he would about the way in which Tammany Hall has managed the Police Department, and it is not denied by those who have charge of the conduct of the investigation that his time has come.

THE PRESENT BUSINESS OF A WELL-KNOWN POLITICIAN.

INVOICES THAT IED. THE FERRY SITUATION CHURCH ATTACKED.

Countdowns Accused of Using Them to Obtain $8,500.

Cigarette-Maker Arrested on His Return from Europe.

Richard & Co. Alleged that He Made False Representations.

Carroll Says He's Waiting to Be Summoned to Sign the Lease.

Dr. Wilson Says Catholics Blackmail Police and Firemen.

They Levy Tribute, He Alleges, on Every Pay Day.

Lively Address Delivered at the Clerical Union Meeting.

Dr. John A. B. Wilson, of the West Eighteenth Street Methodist Church, made a forcible address to-day to the members of the Clerical Union in the Bible House.

From a general condemnation of the police and official department of New York, Dr. Wilson took a turn at the Catholic Church and accused them of levying tribute on the police, or on other words, blackmailing the black mailers.

"Police men and even the firemen," he said, "are victims of blackmail. On every pay day these men are compelled to turn over a certain amount of their salaries to a certain number of men, who take up collections."

"Whether these people are Catholics or not I do not know, but it seems to me that it is one of the evil results of the professional, some of them, claim that this is purely a voluntary contribution, but I have proofs in my possession that it is in ever refused unpleasant consequences follow."

THE WOMAN TEMPTED HIM.
Janitor Jacob Hannon's Reason for Robbing His Employer.

Jacob Hannon, a colored janitor and servant formerly employed by Bayard F. Walker, a cotton broker, who resides in and owns the apartment-house at 120 East Twenty-fourth street, was held in the Tombs Court to-day for robbing his employer.

Last year Mr. Falker, prior to going to the country, packed all the family's winter clothing in trunks and stored them in a vacant room in the house. When the family returned $1,000 worth of winter apparel was missing, and Hannon, the janitor, had disappeared.

The matter was reported to Police Headquarters, but nothing was learned of Hannon's whereabouts until a week or so ago, when he was traced to Philadelphia. Hannon had a wife and child living in Minetta lane, but he deserted them about the time the Falkers moved there.

He was traced to a house in Seventh avenue, where he was living with a colored woman, named Nora Brown, and then to Philadelphia, where Nora and her child were living. Hannon was arrested there Saturday. He made a confession, attributing his downfall to Nora, who, he said, put up the job. The property had been disposed of, some of it in this city and some in Philadelphia.

TWO ASPHALT PERMITS.

Mulberry Street Property Owners Want a Park Quickly.
At the regular meeting of the Board of Estimate and Apportionment in the Mayor's office to-day, it was decided to permit Commissioner Daly to expend $5,000 in paving Sixty-first street with asphalt from Fifth to Madison avenues.

A communication from the representatives of property owners residing in the proposed opening of Mulberry Bend Park, advocating and hastening the work, was referred to the Controller.

Northern Pacific Decision.

(By Associated Press.)
MILWAUKEE, Wis., Oct. 15.—Judge Jenkins Northern Pacific decision, which was filed in the United States Circuit Court to-day, confirms that portion of Special Master Carey's report which exonerates Receiver Carey. The Judge commends at some length on the conduct of Mr. Carey, both as an official of the Northern Pacific road and as receiver of the company.

PRICE ONE CENT.

LAST EDITION.

BOTH HAVE RESIGNED.

Convicted Election Inspectors Run
to Cover at Once.

And Jimmy Martin Makes an Apology
for Their Reappointment.

Tim Sullivan, in Whose District
They Were, Shares in the Blame.

The announcement in "The Evening World" and Evening Post of Saturday that two men who were convicted and fined for illegal conduct at the last election had again been appointed election inspectors has been productive of good results, and it has also shown the machine leaders that they are being too closely watched when they do much crooked work in this campaign.
The two men were appointed by the Police Board from the list submitted by President J. J. Martin, as Chairman of Tammany's Executive Committee. Their names are Charles Gross and Gus Holman, both of whom were convicted of illegal conduct at the last election.

AN UNWILLING ACROBAT.

Cable Car Struck McCormack's Truck, Throwing Him in the Air.
Andy McCormack, truck driver, threw a somersault high in the air, and is not likely to forget the experience soon. He was driving a wagon belonging to Richard Smith, of 210 West Thirtieth street, along Park row.
Arriving at Pearl street, about 8 o'clock, he encountered a cable car running at top speed. The car struck the front wheels of his truck with sufficient force to throw him into the air. Andy a "back-twister" about ten feet high.
His downward flight a couple of longshoremen, who witnessed the accident, caught Andy and threw him on his feet. The force of the fall, however, staggered Andy, and after landing all right he fell forward on his face in the street and received a number of severe cuts on his head.
For a few minutes he was dazed, and when he recovered his speech his first remark was, "Am I killed? I don't know."
Andy assured that he was on earth. Andy remarked: "Well, I ought to know; I hit it badly enough."
The front end of the truck was badly damaged. Andy was put together with the front end of the truck, and the front end of the truck was put together with the front end of the truck.

JACK FROST IN TOWN.

He Left His White Trail Over a Wide Range of Country.
There was frost here this morning. This is the second frost to herald the approach of Winter, pumpkins hereabouts having worn a hoary coat last Saturday morning. The low temperature prevailed over a wide range of territory, the frost being very severe, throwing the northern part of the cotton belt and those portions of the Tennessee and Ohio valleys where the tobacco, which has been the staple crop, is growing most luxuriantly. The mercury scored 32 degrees, a freezing point, at Knoxville, Tenn., and at the same time, the thermometer at St. Louis, Mo., scored 32; Chicago, Ill., 32; St. Louis, Mo., 32; Philadelphia, Pa., 32; Washington, D. C., 32; and New York, N. Y., 32.
The lowest point scored was 28, at Grand Haven, Mich.; the highest, 78, at Key West.

Frost and Flurries of Snow.

(By Associated Press.)
MIDDLETOWN, N. Y., Oct. 15.—The first snow flurry of the season swept over Orange and Sullivan counties last night. There was quite a heavy fall also in Delaware and Chenango counties.

Weather Forecast.

The weather forecast for the thirty-six hours ending at P. M. to-morrow is as follows: Fair, stationary temperature, except slightly warmer Tuesday afternoon; west to southwest winds. The following record shows the changes in temperature during the past twenty-four hours, as indicated by the thermometer at Perry's Pharmacy:
3 A. M., 41; 6 A. M., 40; 9 A. M., 41; 12 M., 41.

DEADLY DUEL WITH KNIVES.

One Texan Killed and Another Is Now a Fugitive.
(By Associated Press.)
WACO, Tex., Oct. 15.—Hoshea L. Stone and Virgil Bohn, two young farmers, on Saturday night attended a dance near miles from this city, where they became involved in a dispute in which a woman was concerned. The men withdrew to a lane and engaged in a duel with knives.

TWO INHALED GAS.

James Broderick Is Dead, but William Green May Recover.
James Broderick forty years old, a stableman, was found dead in his room, 311 West Fifth street, this morning, having been asphyxiated by gas. William Green, nineteen years old, was found in a room at 114 Park Row at 11 this morning, suffering from the accidental inhalation of gas. He was taken to Chambers Street Hospital.

Fell from a Roof.

Frank Fuchs, eighteen years old, of 21 Sixth street, fell from the roof of the fourth-story building at 29 Second street, at 10 o'clock this morning, and fractured his skull. He was taken to Bellevue Hospital.

You read the Evening World?

You read the Sunday World?

PRICE ONE CENT.

LAST EDITION.

BOTH HAVE RESIGNED.

Convicted Election Inspectors Run
to Cover at Once.

And Jimmy Martin Makes an Apology
for Their Reappointment.

Tim Sullivan, in Whose District
They Were, Shares in the Blame.

The announcement in "The Evening World" and Evening Post of Saturday that two men who were convicted and fined for illegal conduct at the last election had again been appointed election inspectors has been productive of good results, and it has also shown the machine leaders that they are being too closely watched when they do much crooked work in this campaign.
The two men were appointed by the Police Board from the list submitted by President J. J. Martin, as Chairman of Tammany's Executive Committee. Their names are Charles Gross and Gus Holman, both of whom were convicted of illegal conduct at the last election.

AN UNWILLING ACROBAT.

Cable Car Struck McCormack's Truck, Throwing Him in the Air.
Andy McCormack, truck driver, threw a somersault high in the air, and is not likely to forget the experience soon. He was driving a wagon belonging to Richard Smith, of 210 West Thirtieth street, along Park row.
Arriving at Pearl street, about 8 o'clock, he encountered a cable car running at top speed. The car struck the front wheels of his truck with sufficient force to throw him into the air. Andy a "back-twister" about ten feet high.
His downward flight a couple of longshoremen, who witnessed the accident, caught Andy and threw him on his feet. The force of the fall, however, staggered Andy, and after landing all right he fell forward on his face in the street and received a number of severe cuts on his head.
For a few minutes he was dazed, and when he recovered his speech his first remark was, "Am I killed? I don't know."
Andy assured that he was on earth. Andy remarked: "Well, I ought to know; I hit it badly enough."
The front end of the truck was badly damaged. Andy was put together with the front end of the truck, and the front end of the truck was put together with the front end of the truck.

JACK FROST IN TOWN.

He Left His White Trail Over a Wide Range of Country.
There was frost here this morning. This is the second frost to herald the approach of Winter, pumpkins hereabouts having worn a hoary coat last Saturday morning. The low temperature prevailed over a wide range of territory, the frost being very severe, throwing the northern part of the cotton belt and those portions of the Tennessee and Ohio valleys where the tobacco, which has been the staple crop, is growing most luxuriantly. The mercury scored 32 degrees, a freezing point, at Knoxville, Tenn., and at the same time, the thermometer at St. Louis, Mo., scored 32; Chicago, Ill., 32; St. Louis, Mo., 32; Philadelphia, Pa., 32; Washington, D. C., 32; and New York, N. Y., 32.
The lowest point scored was 28, at Grand Haven, Mich.; the highest, 78, at Key West.

Frost and Flurries of Snow.

(By Associated Press.)
MIDDLETOWN, N. Y., Oct. 15.—The first snow flurry of the season swept over Orange and Sullivan counties last night. There was quite a heavy fall also in Delaware and Chenango counties.

Weather Forecast.

The weather forecast for the thirty-six hours ending at P. M. to-morrow is as follows: Fair, stationary temperature, except slightly warmer Tuesday afternoon; west to southwest winds. The following record shows the changes in temperature during the past twenty-four hours, as indicated by the thermometer at Perry's Pharmacy:
3 A. M., 41; 6 A. M., 40; 9 A. M., 41; 12 M., 41.

DEADLY DUEL WITH KNIVES.

One Texan Killed and Another Is Now a Fugitive.
(By Associated Press.)
WACO, Tex., Oct. 15.—Hoshea L. Stone and Virgil Bohn, two young farmers, on Saturday night attended a dance near miles from this city, where they became involved in a dispute in which a woman was concerned. The men withdrew to a lane and engaged in a duel with knives.

TWO INHALED GAS.

James Broderick Is Dead, but William Green May Recover.
James Broderick forty years old, a stableman, was found dead in his room, 311 West Fifth street, this morning, having been asphyxiated by gas. William Green, nineteen years old, was found in a room at 114 Park Row at 11 this morning, suffering from the accidental inhalation of gas. He was taken to Chambers Street Hospital.

Fell from a Roof.

Frank Fuchs, eighteen years old, of 21 Sixth street, fell from the roof of the fourth-story building at 29 Second street, at 10 o'clock this morning, and fractured his skull. He was taken to Bellevue Hospital.

You read the Evening World?

You read the Sunday World?

PRICE ONE CENT.

LAST EDITION.

BOTH HAVE RESIGNED.

Convicted Election Inspectors Run
to Cover at Once.

And Jimmy Martin Makes an Apology
for Their Reappointment.

Tim Sullivan, in Whose District
They Were, Shares in the Blame.

The announcement in "The Evening World" and Evening Post of Saturday that two men who were convicted and fined for illegal conduct at the last election had again been appointed election inspectors has been productive of good results, and it has also shown the machine leaders that they are being too closely watched when they do much crooked work in this campaign.
The two men were appointed by the Police Board from the list submitted by President J. J. Martin, as Chairman of Tammany's Executive Committee. Their names are Charles Gross and Gus Holman, both of whom were convicted of illegal conduct at the last election.

AN UNWILLING ACROBAT.

Cable Car Struck McCormack's Truck, Throwing Him in the Air.
Andy McCormack, truck driver, threw a somersault high in the air, and is not likely to forget the experience soon. He was driving a wagon belonging to Richard Smith, of 210 West Thirtieth street, along Park row.
Arriving at Pearl street, about 8 o'clock, he encountered a cable car running at top speed. The car struck the front wheels of his truck with sufficient force to throw him into the air. Andy a "back-twister" about ten feet high.
His downward flight a couple of longshoremen, who witnessed the accident, caught Andy and threw him on his feet. The force of the fall, however, staggered Andy, and after landing all right he fell forward on his face in the street and received a number of severe cuts on his head.
For a few minutes he was dazed, and when he recovered his speech his first remark was, "Am I killed? I don't know."
Andy assured that he was on earth. Andy remarked: "Well, I ought to know; I hit it badly enough."
The front end of the truck was badly damaged. Andy was put together with the front end of the truck, and the front end of the truck was put together with the front end of the truck.

JACK FROST IN TOWN.

He Left His White Trail Over a Wide Range of Country.
There was frost here this morning. This is the second frost to herald the approach of Winter, pumpkins hereabouts having worn a hoary coat last Saturday morning. The low temperature prevailed over a wide range of territory, the frost being very severe, throwing the northern part of the cotton belt and those portions of the Tennessee and Ohio valleys where the tobacco, which has been the staple crop, is growing most luxuriantly. The mercury scored 32 degrees, a freezing point, at Knoxville, Tenn., and at the same time, the thermometer at St. Louis, Mo., scored 32; Chicago, Ill., 32; St. Louis, Mo., 32; Philadelphia, Pa., 32; Washington, D. C., 32; and New York, N. Y., 32.
The lowest point scored was 28, at Grand Haven, Mich.; the highest, 78, at Key West.

Frost and Flurries of Snow.

(By Associated Press.)
MIDDLETOWN, N. Y., Oct. 15.—The first snow flurry of the season swept over Orange and Sullivan counties last night. There was quite a heavy fall also in Delaware and Chenango counties.

Weather Forecast.

The weather forecast for the thirty-six hours ending at P. M. to-morrow is as follows: Fair, stationary temperature, except slightly warmer Tuesday afternoon; west to southwest winds. The following record shows the changes in temperature during the past twenty-four hours, as indicated by the thermometer at Perry's Pharmacy:
3 A. M., 41; 6 A. M., 40; 9 A. M., 41; 12 M., 41.

DEADLY DUEL WITH KNIVES.

One Texan Killed and Another Is Now a Fugitive.
(By Associated Press.)
WACO, Tex., Oct. 15.—Hoshea L. Stone and Virgil Bohn, two young farmers, on Saturday night attended a dance near miles from this city, where they became involved in a dispute in which a woman was concerned. The men withdrew to a lane and engaged in a duel with knives.

TWO INHALED GAS.

James Broderick Is Dead, but William Green May Recover.
James Broderick forty years old, a stableman, was found dead in his room, 311 West Fifth street, this morning, having been asphyxiated by gas. William Green, nineteen years old, was found in a room at 114 Park Row at 11 this morning, suffering from the accidental inhalation of gas. He was taken to Chambers Street Hospital.

Fell from a Roof.

Frank Fuchs, eighteen years old, of 21 Sixth street, fell from the roof of the fourth-story building at 29 Second street, at 10 o'clock this morning, and fractured his skull. He was taken to Bellevue Hospital.

You read the Evening World?

You read the Sunday World?

PRICE ONE CENT.

LAST EDITION.

BOTH HAVE RESIGNED.

Convicted Election Inspectors Run
to Cover at Once.

And Jimmy Martin Makes an Apology
for Their Reappointment.

Tim Sullivan, in Whose District
They Were, Shares in the Blame.

The announcement in "The Evening World" and Evening Post of Saturday that two men who were convicted and fined for illegal conduct at the last election had again been appointed election inspectors has been productive of good results, and it has also shown the machine leaders that they are being too closely watched when they do much crooked work in this campaign.
The two men were appointed by the Police Board from the list submitted by President J. J. Martin, as Chairman of Tammany's Executive Committee. Their names are Charles Gross and Gus Holman, both of whom were convicted of illegal conduct at the last election.

AN UNWILLING ACROBAT.

Cable Car Struck McCormack's Truck, Throwing Him in the Air.
Andy McCormack, truck driver, threw a somersault high in the air, and is not likely to forget the experience soon. He was driving a wagon belonging to Richard Smith, of 210 West Thirtieth street, along Park row.
Arriving at Pearl street, about 8 o'clock, he encountered a cable car running at top speed. The car struck the front wheels of his truck with sufficient force to throw him into the air. Andy a "back-twister" about ten feet high.
His downward flight a couple of longshoremen, who witnessed the accident, caught Andy and threw him on his feet. The force of the fall, however, staggered Andy, and after landing all right he fell forward on his face in the street and received a number of severe cuts on his head.
For a few minutes he was dazed, and when he recovered his speech his first remark was, "Am I killed? I don't know."
Andy assured that he was on earth. Andy remarked: "Well, I ought to know; I hit it badly enough."
The front end of the truck was badly damaged. Andy was put together with the front end of the truck, and the front end of the truck was put together with the front end of the truck.

JACK FROST IN TOWN.

He Left His White Trail Over a Wide Range of Country.
There was frost here this morning. This is the second frost to herald the approach of Winter, pumpkins hereabouts having worn a hoary coat last Saturday morning. The low temperature prevailed over a wide range of territory, the frost being very severe, throwing the northern part of the cotton belt and those portions of the Tennessee and Ohio valleys where the tobacco, which has been the